MORE ABOUT AR'MON & TREY:

Born and raised on the East Side of Detroit, the brotherly duo of Ar'mon & Trey emerges with a focused, fresh, and fiery take on R&B, imbuing simmering soul with 21st century style. Adopting Vine in 2014, the brothers made show-stopping 6-second covers that generated millions of views and hundreds of thousands of Re-Vines before they transitioned to Instagram in 2015. They dropped the “The Same (So Gone Challenge)” on YouTube in 2016, surpassing 500,000 views in under a month and eventually tallying over 3 million. Next up, the “Moment 4 Life (mash up)” blew the doors open for online superstardom as the pair seamlessly segued from Rihanna to Young M.A. to Beyoncé to Trey Songz to Chance the Rapper. It amassed 14 million-plus views and hinted at more to come. At the same time, they showcased their personalities via hilarious prank videos. By 2018, cumulative YouTube views totaled over 100 million as they attracted over 3 million subscribers and more than 2.1 million Instagram followers. Debut singles “Drown” and “Breakdown” caught fire as Warner Bros. Records signed the guys. Their 2018 debut EP, Long Story Short, properly introduces their sizzling and soaring signature sound with anthems like their first single “Forever” and “Bounce That” – arriving just in time for their 24-city sold-out The Fever Tour that summer. In the end, they elevate R&B to new heights through a tireless grind that doesn’t let up.
