April 26, 2019 (Los Angeles, CA) – Today, rising North Atlanta rapper YN Billy has released a new track titled “Red Rag” via III Records / Warner Bros. Records. The precocious artist has been buzzing in the streets of the ATL and first emerged with grass-roots music videos like “Toaster” and “Bud,” putting his versatile delivery and high-octane sound on the map. On “Red Rag,” the raw, piano-laden production produced by Digital Nas (Lil Yachty, ASAP Ferg, Sheck Wes) highlights more of Billy’s potent raps and is primed to crank energy levels up in crowded shows all summer.

MORE ABOUT YN BILLY:

YN Billy was born in Kingston, Jamaica and later raised in North Atlanta, Georgia aka Gwinnett County. During adolescence, he was separated from his parents and was forced to move back to Kingston, where he resided for 3 years of his young teenage life. With his mom not being able to afford to keep him in school, he eventually relocated back to Georgia where he turned to the streets to find means to pay for the bills in his household. In April 2017, he graduated high school with a fresh scouting of labels after the release of his buzz-catching visual “Bud,” which led to the attention of his music.
