NLE Choppa continues his reign of terror with the release of his latest single, "Final Warning."

Like the title suggest, Choppa takes it upon himself to warn any enemy of the damage he can cause throughout the song's lyrics.

"Never send a threat on the internet just to prove a point/That dissin' don't get into that, we leaving that for the informants," Choppa raps. "Don't inform me 'bout who informing, that's your final warning."

The single was produced by Damn E who made a splash with Spottengottem's viral hit, "Beat Box." Choppa's connection to Spottengottem is deeper than working with the same producer. He also used the rapper's beat as the backdrop of his "First Day Out" freestyle which celebrated his release from a Broward County jail.
