BKETHERULA continues her ascension in the rap world with the energetic new single "Blue."

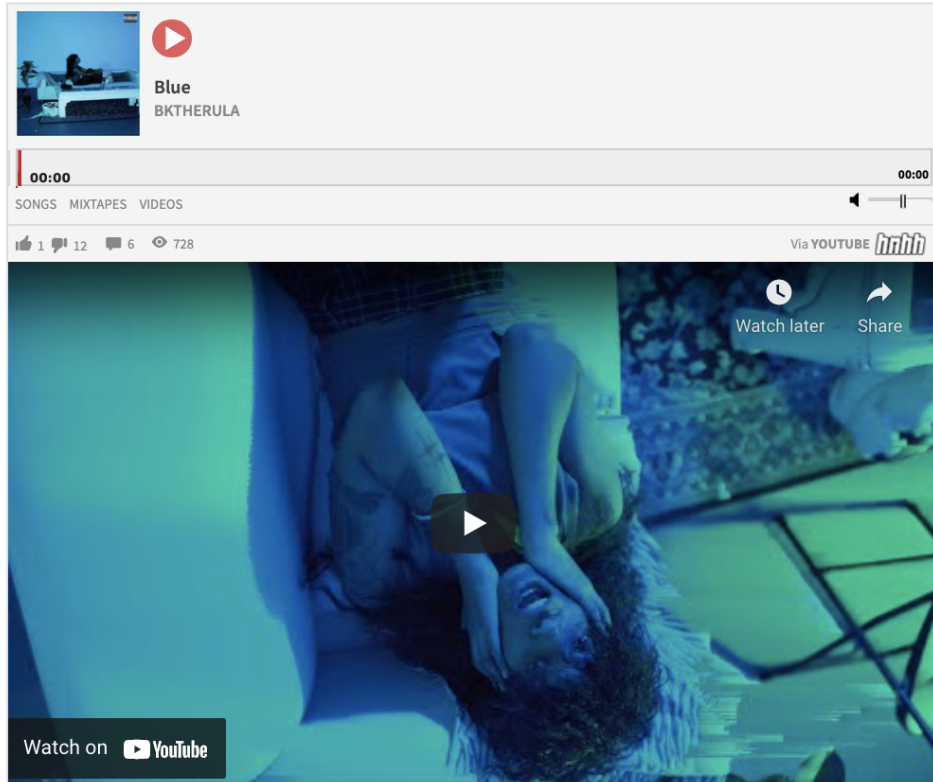

18-year-old Atlanta rapper BKETHERULA has been impressing fans as of late and her come-up has been something to behold. After dropping a project last year called Nirvana, fans have been waiting on her next move and over the weekend, she dropped two new singles including "Satanny" and "Blue." The latter of these two trick is a hypnotic rager that sees BKETHERULA providing manic verses all while caring about nothing else but her money.

"This one day I woke up feeling so betrayed," BKETHERULA said in a press release. "I felt insane and crazy. I didn't know who to trust, and all I had a care for that day was money and material and how I'm gonna get it fast. It's not a good mindstate to be in all the time, but weirdly enough, betrayal can be motivating for me."

The production and rapping on this track are truly impressive and if you have yet to experience BKETHERULA's music, this effort should be enough to make you want to get acquainted with more.

Quotable Lyrics:

Look at the Apollo
Look at all the shots
Hit you with a pan
Or a fucking pot
Until you make some sense
Cause right now you not
