NEW MUSIC COMING SOON!

May 15, 2020 (Los Angeles, CA) – Emerging Nashville-bred R&B artist Bren Joy is celebrating the one year anniversary of his single, “Henny In The Hamptons,” featured on his debut project Twenties, with the release of a new animated visual directed by Burn & Broad. The video transports you, making you forget the quarantine by remembering the feeling of care-free summer fun! The original track received early acclaim from The Tennessean, Elevator Magazine and Lyrical Lemonade. It was even featured on Vulture’s “Best Songs List” who proclaimed “[‘Twenties’] will be at the top of your feel-good summer playlist.” They continued, “Henny In The Hamptons is the song you play so often on repeat, you begin to embody Joy’s silky, sweet positive energy.” Watch the animated video HERE via Warner Records.

Bren’s already caught the attention of some of this generation’s best. He opened for Jhene Aiko and Megan Thee Stallion in 2019, and was named one of The Tennessean’s “Nashville Artists To Watch 2020”! This Sunday, May 17, Bren Joy will perform “Henny In The Hamptons” and more music from Twenties on his IG Live at 7pm CT. Follow @BrenJoy for the latest updates.

Stay tuned for new music coming soon!

ABOUT BREN JOY:

The revelry of 2019's Twenties has established Bren Joy as a raw and indispensable singer, songwriter, lyricist and pianist leading the new wave of R&B. On his eight-track EP, which has amassed over 5.7 million streams on Spotify, the 23-year-old fused elements of jazz, hip-hop, pop and gospel with experimental soul music while offering an emotional sojourn into the complexities of early adulthood.

While studying music at Belmont University, the Nashville-bred musician wrote the relatable and groovy Twenties to be sung both "alone at a jazz club and in stadiums," he says. Inspired by an array of artists, from John Legend and Kirk Franklin to The 1975, Twenties incorporates unique chord structures and progressions on what Bren deems a "youthful, euphoric" collection that "reimagines the mainstream." Bren will continue to tilt the status quo with his dynamic songwriting and style.
