June 10, 2022 (Los Angeles, CA) – Los Angeles-based sonic scientists more* are back with another piece of pure pop songcraft “I Believe In You,” available now via Warner Records. Songwriters/multi-instrumentalists/producers Kane Ritchotte and Malcolm McRae meticulously shape acoustic guitars, mandolin, bass, assorted keyboards, drums/percussion, with unrecognizable sounds and the eerie cry of a pedal steel guitar into a relaxed, breezy ‘n’ bright summer score. The duo’s trademark angelic vocals weave in and around the melody that informs the duo’s distinctive sound.

Listen to “I Believe In You” HERE. The new single arrives just as more* near the end of their run of dates supporting and backing up HAIM on their summer tour, which concludes on June 14 in Bend, OR at Les Schwab Amphitheater.

“I Believe In You” follows the band’s previous releases, “Woman On The Move,” “Whose Side You’re On,” and “Really Want To See You Again.” All tracks were recorded at Sound City and co-produced by more* and Tony Berg (Paul McCartney, Taylor Swift, Phoebe Bridgers). Aside from “I Believe In You,” each of the corresponding music videos are thematically linked to create singular narrative – and all were filmed in glorious black and white and directed by Keene McRae in Los Angeles.

As previously reported, Ritchotte and McRae will play Matt Johnson and Michael Tighe, respectively, in the upcoming film Everybody Here Wants You based on the life and music of the legendary Jeff Buckley and directed by Orian Williams. They not only accompany Buckley (Reeve Carney) on screen as his bandmates, but they will also perform the re-records of selections from his classic catalog. Production began at the top of 2022. Additionally, they will bring fictional band The Winters to life in the upcoming series Daisy Jones & The Six, releasing on Amazon this year.

Also available from more, their first two EPs – '1/2' and '2/2'. Expect much more from more soon. Until then, go here and connect via their Community number at (818) 651-9669.
