Joji Announces New Album 'SMITHEREENS,' Shares New Single "YUKON (INTERLUDE)"

His first full-length effort since 2020's 'Nectar.'

Joji has officially announced his upcoming album SMITHEREENS with his newest single "YUKON (INTERLUDE)."

The new record is set to drop on November 4 via 88rising and will mark his first full-length effort since 2020's Nectar. SMITHEREENS will include the single "Glimpse of Us," which has been certified gold since its release in June and "YUKON (INTERLUDE)," which was written and produced by Joji alongside Isaac Sleator.

In addition, the artist is hitting the road this fall for his SMITHEREENS tour and will make appearances in both North America and Canada between September to late October.
