"Singing like a low-fi Prince" - The New York Times

November 5, 2021 (Los Angeles)— Dijon has unleashed his debut album Absolutely. The album's 12 tracks were recorded over the course of a few fervent weeks whilst in tight confines with a close-knit group of collaborators and friends. The album channels the unfettered emotion of Dijon's live show, which has become a "you had to be there" topic of conversation in the music community with his performance entrancing any witnesses over the last several years. In tandem with the album's release, Dijon shares the video for "Many Times" Directed by Jack Karaszewski.

Absolutely includes the previously-released singles "Rodeo Clown," and "Many Times," along with tracks like "Talk Down" and "Big Mike's," which listeners will recognize from the stirring live performance videos that he's unveiled over the last several weeks. Those two visuals offer the first look at Dijon's film accompaniment for Absolutely, which he held a screening for earlier this week at Brain Dead Studios in LA and will be unveiled soon. Dijon also made his festival debut at Outsidelands in San Francisco last weekend, bringing the whirlwind live experience of Absolutely to the stage for the first time, ahead of joining Bon Iver on their North American tour next Spring.
