

Alemeda, the emerging Ethiopian-Sudanese artist makes Alternative Rock/Pop music as a form of self-expression and empowerment. The 25-year-old Singer/Songwriter/Producer made a name for herself with her viral 2021 debut single, "Gonna Bleach My Eyebrows," which has earned close to 34 million streams to date, following up with, "Post Nut Clarity" (two million and rising), in the summer of 2022. Telling tales of leveling up, and leaving regrettable exes in the past, she weaves between pop, rock, and alternative stylings while using soft melodies to capture her unbothered attitude. Alemeda's introduction to music was fairly unconventional. She grew up between Ethiopia and Arizona in a stern household with strict religious rules and customs where she was alienated from music up until the age of 10. Criticism and familial disapproval of her musical aspirations only made her more determined to push the envelope. After graduating high school, she left for Los Angeles to pursue her passion. Since then, she's written songs that bared her soul. With the release of her debut EP, FK IT, she's determined for her music to be a light in the darkness for others, just as she needed to be for herself. Her recently released singles, "Don't Call Me" and "Guys Girl," offer a glimpse into a new chapter of Alemeda's career, moving on from the turbulent emotions of adolescence to showcasing her growth and confidence.
