Here's a new track from the energizer bunny known as Carlie Hanson to add to your New Music Friday playlists...this new song is called "WYA" and is off Carlie's forthcoming debut EP, JUNK, releasing June 7 (Warner Bros. Records). Carlie says of the song, "it's a letter to my future self – full of anticipation and also some nervous energy."

JUNK vinyl is now available for pre-order as of today. All vinyl copies of the EP will be autographed by Carlie and the first 175 orders will also receive a limited-edition artful zine filled with Carlie's most personal journal entries, illustrating the journey of JUNK.
