

HOBO JOHNSON SHARES NEW LIVE VIDEO

WATCH "MOVER AWAYER" (LIVE FROM BOSTON) HERE

December 16, 2019 (Los Angeles, CA) - Hobo Johnson is ramping things up as the year comes to a close with a new live video for his stand-out track "Mover Awayer," featured on this year's acclaimed album The Fall of Hobo Johnson on Reprise Records / Warner Records. The video displays an unforgettable performance featuring fan footage of "Mover Awayer" at Hobo Johnson's sold-out show at The House of Blues Boston during The Fall Tour of Hobo Johnson.

2019 was a seminal year for Frank Lopes Jr. aka Hobo Johnson, which saw the release of his second album take his career from an emerging talent to a bona-fide artist making music in a class all his own with over 173 million cumulative streams. With a metaphorical title, The Fall of Hobo Johnson is about all of the experiences Hobo has gone through since his music began to skyrocket. The album hosts a string of brilliant tracks and compelling visuals, including the lead hit single "Typical Story," which has over 18 million streams worldwide. Watch the profound effect Hobo Johnson's music has in the live video now.

PRESS ON HOBO JOHNSON:

"[Hobo Johnson has] the makings of the next great superstar-slash-argument-starter." – THE ATLANTIC

"Just below the surface of Johnson's pop-culture quirks is a brutally honest, exquisitely detailed analysis of love, desire, heartbreak, happiness, and mental health. And that duality is what's made his rise so steep and so emotionally charged." – RELIX MAGAZINE

"As a newly appointed member of the proudly unconventional pop stars club, his latest body work is a worthy representation of who he is: a talented and undeniably funny underdog with an addictive persona." – NME

"On 'The Fall of Hobo Johnson,' [Hobo Johnson] pushes genre boundaries to their furthest extent, traversing from wall-of-sound punk rock on 'Typical Story' to the subdued cool of string-heavy hip-hop, returning to bare-boned guitar soundscapes by the end of the album that have his bars sounding like slam poetry." – NYLON

"Hobo Johnson continues to ride the wave of triumph first created by the seismic viral activity of his 'Peach Scone' video created for NPR's Tiny Desk Contest." – FORBES

ABOUT HOBO JOHNSON:

Hailing from Sacramento, CA, artist Frank Lopes Jr., who cultivated the moniker Hobo Johnson after being kicked out of his parents' house and left to live in his '94 Corolla, is propelling his way to the top. The half Azorean Portuguese, quarter Mexican and Native American vocalist built a grassroots following via viral homegrown style videos showcasing his singularity; an amalgamation of spoken word poetry, punk, folk and rap backed by his band The Lovemakers. Hobo's momentum reached a tipping point after gaining feverish interest through his "Peach Scone" video entry in NPR's "Tiny Desk" Contest, which went viral despite not winning. Bursting with unadulterated sincerity, his genre-defying sound feels akin to musical anomalies of the past and future. 2017 saw Hobo Johnson's self-released debut album, The Rise of Hobo Johnson, selling out shows everywhere. To date, Hobo Johnson has amassed over 173 million total U.S. streams and his impact only continues to grow with the arrival of his sophomore album, The Fall Of Hobo Johnson.
