April 17, 2020 (Los Angeles, CA) – Warner Records' new singer/songwriter/poet Savannah Cristina is one to watch. She just released another beautiful and soothing song with a complementary video entitled “Comfortable” – showcasing her soulful voice, sensual lyrics and alluring tone. Get “Comfortable” NOW, and watch the video HERE.

The South Florida native put out a string of stripped-down videos that she recorded with a mic and minimal set-up on a beach, basketball court and anywhere else she'd feel inspired, including a busy street intersection. Savannah's organic approach paid off. Her latest video, “Self Care,” is brutally honest and empowering – a song all females can relate to. The video has over 4 million YouTube views, and garnered a co-sign from Alicia Keys who called Savannah's “Self-Care” “beautiful.”

Savannah Cristina describes her music as “soul therapy.” The vibe is therapeutic. It's food for thought with lyrics that nurture the soul. Citing Ella Fitzgerald, Norah Jones and Stevie Wonder as early influences, Savannah began honing her skills at the age of six, singing at church. It's her God-given talent and relentless work ethic that make the music's quality sound; combined with natural beauty and brains, it's clear that Savannah Cristina is ready for the spotlight.
