May 11, 2020 (Los Angeles, CA) – The countdown is on to the May 29th release date of RMR's debut EP Drug Dealing Is a Lost Art, as he now unveils an animated video for the “Dealer” remix, continuing his avant-garde visual narrative. Directed by Psychofilms, the video features the qualities that already distinguish RMR's notable visual approach and personalized style, fusing historic 19th century European art with contemporary imagery. The new visual follows the original “Dealer,” which has amassed over 2 million views on YouTube and over 3 million total streams and playlist inclusion on Spotify's New Music Friday and Most Necessary as well as Apple Music's New Music Daily and Hot Tracks.

ABOUT RMR:

At the end of February, an otherwise unknown artist named RMR (pronounced “Rumor”) burst onto the scene, fully masked, with a video for his song “Rascal,” taking the internet by storm in a zeitgeist moment. RMR’s “Rascal,” a stirring rework of Rascal Flatts’ “Bless the Broken Road,” made waves on impact, leading to a fever pitch of curiosity around the masked artist. A rare, magnificent display of interpolation, vocal prowess and profound R&B-balladry, RMR’s “Rascal” garnered press coverage from The New York Times, Rolling Stone, The FADER, NME, Los Angeles Times and more.
