With those April showers rolling in, grab a throw blanket, snuggle up on your couch and tune in to some livestream concerts.

There's something for everyone this week, including the 2021 BRIC JazzFest featuring Meshell Ndegeocello and Roy Ayers kicking off on April 8; the ongoing Bluebird on Third series for country fans; and for those into huge rock events, U2 wraps up its "The Virtual Road" digital tour with the band's December 2015 Paris concerts, streaming for the first time.

See what other virtual shows are happening the week of April 5-11 below. We'll update this list as more notable events are announced.

April 8-9: Ali Gatie will put on an exclusive live-streamed performance with Moment House in celebration of his new EP The Idea of Her. The show will streaming via Moment House on April 8 and 9, depending on the territory.
